10:30 CURRENT POLICY SETTINGS

In this session central government organisations provide an overview of the current policy landscape and how this is responding to a changing climate.

Peter Ettema - Ministry for Primary Industries
Paul Barker - Department of Internal Affairs

11:00 PANEL: VIEWS FROM DRY LAND

Facilitated by: Nick Cradock-Henry

In this panel farmers and growers from around Aotearoa New Zealand share their lived experiences of our changing climate. We ask panelists how these experiences have influenced their own practices and how they intend to adapt their farming to the future climate?

Bruce Wills - Hawke's Bay Sheep & Beef Farmer
Richard Cookson - Waikato Dairy Farmer
Brenton O'Reilly - Viticulturist, Te Mata Estate
Fraser Avery - Marlborough Sheep & Beef Farmer
Neil Bateup - Rural Support Network
Cathy Tait-Jamieson - BioFarm Dairy Farmer, Manawatu

11:45 PANEL: ADAPTING THE PRIMARY SECTOR

Facilitated by: Anita Wreford

In this panel, we ask a range of institutions working in the primary sector: How is your organisation adapting to the changing climate and what does future policy need to deliver for climate adaptation, considering future drought projections for Aotearoa?

Liz Tupuhi - DairyNZ
Michelle Sands - Hort NZ
Ivan Lawrie - FAR
Gavin Forrest - Federated Farmers
Edwin Massey - NZWine

12:30 LUNCH

1:30 COLLECTIVE CONVERSATIONS: VIEWS, ISSUES, REACHING OUTCOMES

Facilitated by: Roger Fairclough

In this facilitated session we take the key issues and challenges facing the sector (as determined by attendees) and invite interactive conversations and responses towards resolving these. With a future-focussed lens we will ask attendees to imagine a future where we have fully adapted to a changing climate and work backwards to understand how we can reach this goal as a nation.

2:45 AFTERNOON TEA

3:15 FUTURE ADAPTATION: WHERE TO FROM HERE?

Facilitated by: Roger Fairclough

In our closing session, we review the outcomes of the rolling symposium and devise tangible pathways to future adaptation policy and practice.
